

Developing Emergency Action Plans, Emergency Equipment, EMS Response, and Staff Training

Dennis Russell, M.Ed, ATC, CSCS, NRP, CP

- I. Overview
 - a. Development of an Emergency Action Plan (EAP)
 - b. Emergency Equipment
 - c. EMS Response
 - d. Staff Training
 - i. Head and Neck Emergency Considerations
 - e. At the conclusion of the presentation the participants should be able to:
 - i. Understand the importance of an Emergency Action Plan (EAP)
 - ii. Develop an Emergency Action Plan
 - iii. Understand how to find their local EMS protocols

- II. Emergency Action Plan (EAP)
 - a. EAP provides flexible guidelines
 - b. Comprehensive plan
 - c. Practice
 - d. Standard of care

- III. EAP Development
 - a. Format
 - b. Emergency Personnel I Team
 - c. Emergency Equipment
 - d. Venues
 - e. Services

- IV. EAP Format
 - a. General Guidelines
 - b. Personnel 1Staff Availability
 - c. Communication
 - d. Access for emergency vehicles
 - e. Emergency equipment

- V. Personnel / Staff
 - a. ATC's
 - b. MD
 - c. EMT / Paramedics
 - d. Students
 - e. Coaches
 - f. Other

- VI. Communication System

- a. 911 / dispatch
 - b. Access and information
 - c. Visiting teams I Travel
 - d. Back up
- VII. Emergency Equipment
- a. Availability
 - b. Training
 - c. Storage
 - d. Care
 - e. Maintained
- VIII. Venues
- a. Individual plans
 - b. Differences
 - c. Personnel
 - d. Equipment
 - e. Access
- IX. Emergency Facilities
- a. Resources
 - b. Transport protocols
 - c. Communication
 - d. Information
- X. Plan Review
- a. Administration
 - b. Legal
 - c. Public safety I Security
 - d. Other
- XI. Rehearsal
- a. Education
 - b. Review I Update
 - c. Training, Training, Training
- XII. Head and Neck Emergency Considerations
- a. What is your EMS Protocol?
 - b. Helmet I Shoulder pads
 - c. Who is responsible for patient care and when?
- XIII. Lab Practice
- a. Head and Neck injury management
 - b. High Performance CPR

- XIV. Questions
- a. Thank you
 - b. Dennis Russell
 - c. United Ambulance Service
 - d. 207.782.8414
 - e. dennis.russell@unitedambulance.net